STIRLING NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Lief Erickson

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Roloff of Wenham spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Wright had as their Sunday guests, the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright from Beaver.

The Relief Society Ward Conference was held Sunday evening with President Eudora Oler conducting the program. The principal speakers were Wilford Bandley and Parrell Nelson. Special anthems were given by the choir with a violin solo by Bishop Erickson.

Joyce Jacobs is a patient in the Galt Hospital where she underwent an appendicitis operation. Her condition is favorable.

Tom Crankhite of New Dayton was a visitor in town Sunday.

The Home and School organization sponsored a very successful Halloween Party on Thursday evening. The children gathered shell out tickets which had previously been sold by High School Students. The proceeds from these tickets will be used for school improvements.

About 8 p.m. all the children gathered at the school hall for an evening of fun consisting of community singing, a program, stunts and treats. A prize was given to Helen Michelson, a grade two student, for her clever witch costume.

Mr. Birgit McKee has returned from Vancouver where he purchased a new motor home where he intends to move shortly.

Mrs. Mills Johnson has gone to Taber for a visit with her family.

Since the weather has moderated somewhat the farmers are making a desperate effort to recover the balance of the beet crop. However short days, mud, and labor shortages are making this definitely uphill.

A very cleverly arranged Opening HI School Party was held Friday, November 1st under the very capable direction of the HI School Social Chairman, Mr. Al Candy. The hall was elaborately decorated in wine and gold, the school colors. Unusual games and stunts were enjoyed throughout the first portion of the entertainment. A box of chocolate was presented to Joanne Erickson and Bob Nelson for having the highest score.

Later a delicious lunch was served to the guests, with the Misses Ruby Horsany, Doreen Hartley and Milly Greg, heading the committee.

Dancing was then enjoyed for the remainder of the evening. All HI School students voted this an A1 affair and much credit is due Mr. Candy for a swell time.

B.C. RUSHING ROAD LINK ALASKA HIGHWAY

British Columbia is reported to be making good progress with a $20,000,000 highway program which was launched this year, according to information received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

The minister of public works, Hon. E.C. Carson, said recently that every effort was being made to expedite the program, though shortages of material had been a handicap during the current season. Several new gravel crushing plants have been placed in operation.

Recent reports say that steady progress is being made on the Prince George-Dawson Creek highway being built by the coast government. This is to form a coast link with the Alaska highway.

The highway has been cleared and graded for a distance of 125 miles west of Dawson Creek. Good bridges are being built and a highway 21 feet in width is being gravelled as rapidly as possible.

Work is also being advanced from the Prince George end. As there is some heavy construction in the mountains, it appears that the road will not be opened until 1948, instead of 1947 which was planned originally. The estimated cost of the project is $6,000,000.

Somebody Cried Wolf

I was talking the other day with a chap about soap. He is in a position to know what he is talking about. I asked him the reason for the soap shortage. His idea was the same as mine, that some one had fabricated a soap shortage and no sooner said than there was. In fact it came out in the press that we could expect a soap shortage. Those that could went on a buying spree and wherever and whenever they could they purchased soap.

The soap out put now must be as great as during the war years when all available fats went into ammunition. Thousands of service men purchased soap for laundry purposes in camps. We never suffered a shortage then.

We believe that a good many people get busy and put in a good supply of soap before the hoarders get it all. And I believe they think the situation will get worse before it gets any better. And it will as long as we the people insist on hoarding short products.

What about the farm wife who gets to town once a week. How can she get soap if her city consorts who are able to shop every day get it all?

To ease the situation all around the spare ration coupons in the new books could be used for soap. The wholesalers, retailers and I'm sure the consumers would be happier and it certainly would guarantee everyone a fair share and make the distribution equal. Every spare box of soap purchased and stored tightens the clamp on the consumer another notch. If there is a real reason other than hoarding for the soap shortage I would like to be corrected.

Police Court

Three boys appeared in Juvenile Court this week before Magistrate M.T. King and pleaded guilty to wilfully destroying a number of electric light bulbs attached to Brewerton's Theatre on Halloween night. They were each fined $7.50 and restitution ordered for damages. They also received a stern warning. Charges against two juveniles for assaulting a young Japanese girl were withdrawn upon request of the girl's parents. This incident resulted from two boys assaulting the girl near the Public School on Halloween night and taking all her Halloween apples etc. She also suffered an injured nose.

Another juvenile appeared on charges of stealing a bicycle wheel and $5.00 from the High School. He received a fine of $9.00 and ordered to make restitution in both cases.

Police are investigating the damage to Lincoln Wood's fence the night after Halloween and expect to charge the guilty person soon.

Local Happenings

Reported by Elsie Mitchell

The Athenaeum met Monday at the Public Library for their monthly meeting. The lesson of Canadiana non-fiction was given by Mrs. Opal Widgill giving the biology of St. Erice McMillan. Mrs. Della Woolf gave Sweden's Educational System and Mrs. Irene Halliday the Works of Stephen Leacock.

Mrs. Hene Phillips entertained her Primary class at a Halloween Party last Thursday evening. The boys enjoyed a happy evening with games a scavenger hunt being the high light of the evening. Mrs. Phillips served the boys a lovely lunch.

Mrs. Thomas Hecken has returned from Medicine Hat where she has been visiting with her daughter Mrs. Leah MacKenzie.

Miss Barbara Stone held a Halloween party Thursday evening at her home. The guests came in costume and after a lovely party all attended the Halloween dance.

The Raymond Women's Institute under the direction of President M. Jameson and L. Hitchfield have undertaken as a project for 1946 the welcoming of the boys from Raymond who brought home brides from overseas by presenting each bride with a quilt. The material for each quilt was donated personally by members of the Institute and these quilts were quilted in groups of four by the Institute members. To date eighteen of these have been made and presented and it is expected that three more will be given before the close of the year. This has indeed been a worthy project and the overseas brides have been very appreciative of these gifts.

Mrs. Kieth Karren of Magrath is a Raymond visitor with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Char Fairbanks.

Mrs. Eulalia Nalder, Martha Taylor, Una Poulson and Elsie Mitchell motored to Calgary Sunday with Mrs. Ruth Tolstrup of Lethbridge where they spent a few days.

Mrs. Eulalia Nalder and Mrs. Elsie Mitchell were joint hostesses Wednesday afternoon at the home of the latter to the Readers Progress Club. Mrs. Atha Peterson gave a very interesting review of the book "Solo in Tom Tom" by Jean Fowler. After the business of the month the hostesses served lunch. Mrs. Eva Nemeth was a special guest.

The many friends of Mr. Phil Baker who has been seriously ill in a Calgary hospital, will be pleased to learn he is now making favorable progress and expects to be home soon.

Mr. J. H. Blackmore, M.P., was a Raymond visitor this week.

Miss LaDon Meldrum is spending a few days in Calgary with her sister Vera.

Miss Emma Allred arrived home from Calgary Wednesday to attend the wedding of her cousin Miss Shirley Nilsson.

A farewell party was held last Friday evening at the R. T. Graham home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Art Garner, who are leaving soon to their farm in Rosemary. The party was sponsored by the Neighborhood Club and their partners. The evening was spent in singing and games with thirty one guests present. After a delicious lunch Mrs. Garner was presented with a lovely serving tray.

Mr. Lloyd Kitchen left Monday for Edmonton where he will attend school for the next three months.

Here and There

WRITING ON THE WALL

Only vulgar optimism could hope for a peaceful settlement of the many differences between Russia and the Western powers. Does this mean war?—not necessarily.

Everywhere that the interests of Russia meet those of the United States and Great Britain there is sharp conflict. There has yet to be one territorial issue come before them where settlement in the spirit of co-operation has been made.

Whether it is in Asia, Europe or Africa makes no difference. Russia is going to force Turkey to give her control in the Dardanelles, Britain and U. States say no. Russia wants to "help" the communist parties take over the Balkan countries, the West says "hands off". If an American paper prints charges of Soviet interference Pravda replies with a blast plus counter charges.

The Russians stopped Manchuria of her industrial machinery. This was a violation of the United Nations plan for Korea. Official American protest went unheeded. United States used her best public officials to bring peace to China but they failed. Some think that the Russian sponsored communists are at the seat of this chaos. Russia of course denies this and points to China as an example of the final failure of Democracy.

Japan is one place where Russian influence has been checkmated. General MacArthur has firmly declined to give up the dryers sent to Russia or any other nation, although Russia does have a seat on the four power advisory board.

In Iran Britain has had oil concessions for years. Russia is trying to oust Britain. Being the second largest producer of oil in the world Russia needs the Iranian fields to bolster her own ample oil reserves. Britain would lose her oiling centres on the Eastern Mediterranean without the Iranian supplies unless she could buy from American companies now operating in Saudi Arabia.

Russia insists on owning a strip of North Africa, a move aimed at Britain's East-West life line. This has been strongly opposed by the western powers.

Even in Germany where the 4 way split of the country hasn't been successful the Russians are determined to keep their zone isolated. A cooperative handling of Germany would alleviate much suffering and delay the disorganization which the Russians hope for, a condition which they could blame on the western democracies. To work with Russia the western powers must overlook the disquieting effects of nerve wars. They will have to be strong and tough, use tough language and be ready with a strong right arm.

James Bridge entertained his Sunday school class at a Halloween costume party Friday. Games and a lunch were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Bessie Shaw was hostess Friday night when she entertained members of her club. Miss Arlene Hudson assisted her and the evening was spent doing fancy work.

Mrs. Jack Nelson and children spent the past week visiting her sister Mrs. Lucille Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Athol Cooper spent the latter part of the week in Lethbridge, Athol attending the convention there.

LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

VACCINATION STILL NECESSARY

Most everybody knows what smallpox is, but not many of the present generation have seen a case.

Smallpox is a killing disease, and it disfigures those it does not kill. Once the most dreaded of all diseases with epidemics which wiped out one-tenth of the population at a time, smallpox is a disease against which there is no natural immunity.

The disease may be almost forgotten, but there are still cases occurring in Canada. And, the recent outbreak on the United States of the Pacific Coast served as a warning that smallpox has not altogether disappeared.

However, it has been practically wiped out through vaccination—a protective process which immunizes the recipient. Vaccination should be repeated every seven years, or during an epidemic.

The Journal of the Canadian Medical Association stated recently that heavy post-war travel is facilitating the spread of smallpox into areas usually relatively free. The Journal stated that there is "definite risk" of scattered outbreaks in Canada and, because it could not be claimed that Canadians were adequately protected, suggested a campaign in support of vaccination and re-vaccination.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

St. Cross hospital, at Winchester, England, run by the Order of Noble Poverty, has marked its 500th anniversary.

To speed up salvage operations, the British admiralty is experimenting with underwater photography of wrecks.

A notice went up in the window of a tobacconist's in Regent's Park, London, recently: "Closed for 20 minutes—stocktaking."

Finders of a 300 A.D. collection of Roman silver, S. Ford and G. Butcher have been offered £1,000 ($4,000) each by the British Museum.

The R.A.F.'s No. 147 transport squadron has carried 152,000 passengers and 42,000,000 pounds ($108,000,000) worth of freight without mishap.

Coal production in Alberta for the nine months ended Sept. 30 was nearly 1,000,000 tons ahead of last year, John Crawford, chief inspector of mines, announced.

Wolf hunting by aircraft on a large scale is planned this winter in Russia following last year's experiments when more than 100 wolves were shot from planes on one occasion.

Viseount Mountbatten of Burma, who received a peerage for services as Allied commander in Southeast Asia, Wednesday has taken the oath as a member of the British house of lords.

Tipping Services

"Just A Mess Of Hooy!" Says The Ottawa Journal

The Journal continues: "If the people who make a living getting out sheets on the stock market knew what was going to happen to the stock market they wouldn't be making their living getting out such sheets; they would all be multi-millionaires. Actually, most of the people who publish and write for tip sheets are people who know very little of the world and economic forces which influence stock markets; the superficial, elementary things they say—often jargon they have picked up in board rooms—reveal them as definitely third rate."

"Yet many people who ought to know better are victimized by such sheets; allow themselves to be taken in by the gibberish of hacks who couldn't for the life of them tell what Canada's production of trade was last year, let alone at present, and who wouldn't know one of Mr. Ilsley's budget speeches from a sermon by Raymond Fossick."

Of course, the best advice to investors and would-be investors, or speculators, is simply to deal with members of the established stock exchanges or the Investment Dealers' Association. Or if it is a new promotion without such sponsorship, there are reliable financial publications ready to give sound advice; and there is the Better Business Bureau, whose slogan is: "Investigate Before You Invest."

The Windsor Star says many movements have originated with mystifying names, but a study of their theories has usually cleared matters up. This new business of existentialism tops them all, however. The word could not possibly mean anything to a layman, but after reading an exhaustive explanation, the mystery is made immeasurably deeper.

Ahead In Race

Britain Leads Other Nations In Development of Jet-Propelled Ship

British marine engineers expect to launch the first semi-jet-propelled ship next year, effecting "the greatest change in ocean transport since the transition from sail to steam," the London News Chronicle reported from Liverpool.

The secretly designed jet engine is based on the same principles as the gas turbine engine on land. It is designed to develop 6,000 horsepower over long distances, and means that ships' boiler rooms can be eliminated for more cargo space the paper said.

The News Chronicle said British engineers are winning the jet-ship race against Norwegian, Swiss, and American scientists. It said the U.S. navy is building small jet-propelled naval vessels.

LOWER ACCOMMODATION RATES FOR TOURISTS

OTTAWA.—Accommodation for persons of low income will be provided in Canada's National Parks when the demand for home construction is met, Roy A. Gibson, director of the lands, parks and forests branch of the Resources Department, said.

Mr. Gibson was asked at a conference of provincial tourist officials if the department planned hotels or cabins for tourists whose vacations are short and incomes limited.

He answered that "we intend if we can" to build such facilities but that "soldier housing" comes first.

Atomic Power Seen As Aid To Northland

Would Uncover Vast, Undeveloped Natural Resources

TORONTO.—Vast, undeveloped natural resources of northern Canada—hitherto impossible to uncover because of their distance from the supply centres—may become gainfully productive through application of atomic energy, H. A. Winne, supervisor of a $350,000,000 atomic plant in the state of Washington, said.

Mr. Winne, vice-president in charge of engineering policy for the General Electric company, is in charge of the Stanford engineering works, a plutonium-producing plant.

If we can develop atomic energy plants that could be installed in the far north, then it would mean the problem of power supply—how to get oil or coal or electricity into remote districts—would have been eliminated," he said in an interview. "As a result it might be possible to open mines and other projects farther north than anyone has yet done."

Aside from this development, however, the impact of atomic energy on industrial methods would hardly be noticed.

Atomic plants would be used only as it is today. Atomic energy "will never replace hydro or coal or oil as power sources—it will only supplement them."

H.M.S. Vanguard

Britain's Latest Battleship Will Be Used For Royal Visit To Africa

When the Royal Family visit South Africa next February they will travel to Capetown in H.M.S. Vanguard, Britain's latest-built capital ship. Designed as a capital fighting unit of the United Kingdom Fleet the "Vanguard" has ample quarters for a commander-in-chief and staff officers and it is the existence of this accommodation that has made it possible in a short time and with comparatively small alterations to adapt the ship for the Royal Family and entourage.

Canadian Beaver Taken By Air To Some Place In Argentina

Twenty Canadian beaver, with their ratings of fresh poplar saplings, left Montreal by air recently for New York on the first lap of a long flight to Argentina.

They are bound for a still undetermined destination about 1,000 miles south of Buenos Aires where the Argentine government plans to stock them.

Thomas Lamb, muskrat and beaver rancher from Moose Lake, Sask., accompanied the unusual cargo and will remain several months in Argentina seeking suitable muskrat and beaver country.

A Growing Nation

DURING THE WAR MUCH WAS HEARD of Canada's growing status among the other nations of the world. The great amount of energy and ability which was put into the war effort was responsible, in part at least, for this rapid rise to a foremost place in world affairs, for it was recognized that Canada's contribution to the Allied cause in both men and resources was far in excess of what might have been expected of a nation with such a relatively small population. The same qualities which made possible this outstanding achievement still exist in Canada today and it is the responsibility of the people to see that the country continues to progress in peace, as it did during the war.

A Distinctive Canadian Type

The subject of Canada's growing importance as a nation has been referred to by the Right Hon. Vincent Massey, C.H., P.C., who has recently returned from London, after serving for some years, including the duration of the war, as Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain. Mr. Massey has told of the increase of Canada's prestige in Britain, and of the admiration felt there for Canada and the Canadian people. Much of this he has attributed to the contribution made by this country to the winning of the war, but Mr. Massey has also expressed the opinion that out of the war has come a distinctive Canadian type, an increasing awareness of Canadian nationhood, and a developing unity which he said could be termed "an intricate domestic pattern in a complicated country."

Faith Alone Is Not Sufficient

Mr. Massey has also told the Canadian people that he has great faith in the future of this country, but he has warned that faith alone is not sufficient to solve our difficulties "although they will not be solved without it." It is timely that we should be reminded of the need to look to the future and to continue to work for the development of the country both through faith and through action. At present we are faced with a number of difficult problems including labour unrest, housing, immigration and others. Many of the situations which have arisen were not anticipated during the war, and Canada today is not as most of her people hoped it would be in the second year of peace. We have, however, much to lose if we do not unite and solve the problems of peace as we did those of the war, and look forward at all times to developing to the utmost the great possibilities of the country in which we live.

Builders of Somerset, in the West of England, have erected and completed a pre-fabricated house in 58½ minutes. This is claimed to be a world record for building speed. Eighteen men were on the job. They started work at 3:34 p.m. By 4:32½ p.m. the house was completed with all services, and ready for occupation.

Still A Mystery

British Research Workers Have Studied Grass Disease For 50 Years

British veterinarians are about to try again to solve the mysteries of "grass disease," which has baffled research workers for almost 50 years. The disease, which appeared in Scotland just after the South African War, is quickly fatal in most cases. Incidence is highest among young animals and those which recover are of little working value.

For 40 years the malady has been taking its toll in Scotland and in recent years it spread to Northern England and even the Midlands.

Professor William C. Miller, first director of the new Equine Research Station established by the Veterinary Educational Trust at Newmarket, is making a study of "grass disease" one of his first projects and has asked for expert help.

EFFECT DOUBLE CURE

British Physicians Transfer Glands And Revert Addison's Disease

LONDON.—A delicate gland-grafting operation apparently has cured a 33-year-old woman of dread Addison's disease and simultaneously brought health to another woman from whom the grafted gland was taken, the authoritative British Medical Journal reported.

The first patient suffered from inadequate supply of secretion from the suprarenal gland and had been kept alive by large salt dosages. Physicians found another woman, 21, suffering from an over-active suprarenal gland. The over-active gland in less than an hour was grafted successfully to the blood vessels of the other's abdominal wall.

Three weeks later the victim of Addison's disease left the hospital and had only one brief bit of trouble during the early period of convalescence. Now, 1½ years later, she is apparently cured. The patient from which the gland was removed also made a "good recovery."

Addison's disease is a chronic ailment, usually fatal, caused by insufficient secretion of adrenalin from the suprarenal gland. Its symptoms include anemia.

FOUNDATION GIVES GRANT FOR RHEUMATISM STUDY

LONDON.—New research into the causes and remedies for rheumatism is to be undertaken at Manchester University with the assistance of a £100,000 ($400,000) grant from the Nuffield Foundation here. The grant is expected to finance research for ten years.

Recent estimates by organizations operating under the national health insurance plan were that one-third of the payments made under the plan were to those afflicted with "chronic rheumatism."

The Nuffield Foundation was established by Lord Nuffield in 1943 with an endowment of £10,000,000.

SMILE AWHILE

One of the guests turned to a man by his side to criticize the singing of a woman who was trying to entertain them.

"What a terrible voice! Do you know who she is?"

"Yes," was the answer. "She's my wife."

"Oh, I beg your pardon. Of course, it isn't her voice, really. It's the stuff she has to sing. I wonder who wrote that awful song?"

"I did," was the answer.

Mrs. Dumbly was waiting to be served in the boot shop. Presently a girl assistant approached her.

"What size shoe do you wear, madam?" she inquired.

"Well," said Mrs. Dumbly, "I bought size four last time."

The girl looked puzzled.

"Yes, madam, I remember," she replied; "but you're buying this pair for yourself, aren't you?"

In the lounge of a large hotel much patronized by black market merchants, two doctors were comparing notes. One remarked to the other: "I've got a great many cases of hysteria."

A man leaned across and said: "I'll take the lot, mister."

It was the far end of a rather dull evening in the parlor. After a long silence he said: "I wish I had money. I'd travel."

She looked at him a moment and then reached for her handbag. "How much do you need?" she inquired.

The new Land Girl was doing her best, but she was evidently finding everything on the farm very strange.

Having had an incubator explained to her, and been asked if she fully understood it, she put her head on one side and, with a puzzled look, replied:

"Yes, but where does the hen sit?"

She (reading sign over box office): "Oh, Phil! It says 'Entire Bahamy, 25c.'"

Phil: "Let's get it so we can be all alone."

A rich and pompous man was staying at a small country tavern in England and as he entered the breakfast room the only other visitor present rose to his feet.

"Sit down, sit down," boomed the great and rich one, condescendingly.

"Why," asked the other, "can't I get up for some marmalade?"

But Canadian Bacon For British Market Should Be Identified

There is no reason why Canada cannot compete successfully with Denmark in the British bacon market, Agriculture Minister D. L. Campbell of Manitoba told the Manitoba Swine Breeders' association.

Reporting on a visit to Britain, Mr. Campbell said Canadian bacon lacked proper identification and consequently a lot of British people thought an improvement in quality was needed. However, United Kingdom experts were "very satisfied" with the high standards maintained during the war.

The minister urged steps be taken to identify Canada's bacon exports and to distinguish it from inferior brands of other countries.

Flowers For London

Blossoms From Scilly Islands To Be Shipped For Winter Market

Acres on the Scilly Islands devoted to vegetables during the war soon will be blooming again with narcissi, daffodils, arum lilies, clematis, and other flowers for London's winter markets.

Under most favorable prewar conditions, says the National Geographic Society, these islands 25 miles off England's southwest corner shipped about 85,000 individual blossoms a year. Flowers bloom out of doors the year round at a latitude 650 miles north of New York City.

The warm Gulf Stream gives the islands a mild temperature ranging from 46 to 58 degrees, Fahrenheit. Startling plants outdoors in September and October, the islanders can supply the London markets in December or early January by forcing blossoms under glass.

Because of gales, the tenderest flowers have to be protected by masses of purple-flowering veronica and tall hedges. The gales may send a salt spray to spot and blacken blossoms. They also may ruin cargoes by holding loaded ships in harbor until the flowers fade.

Scillonians who now number about 1,750, gradually turn florists some sixty years ago after a plague had killed all the flowers sent on a trill basis to the London market. Before that time the islanders had supported themselves by farming, fishing, and more precarious means. Only five of the 140 islets and granite reefs are inhabited.

FLAVOR IS BETTER

The Agriculture Department Consumer Section home economist says the best flavored sauce is made without peeling the apples, and besides it is a time saver. Wash apples, quarter them and discard any decayed portions. Cook until soft in a covered pan, adding just enough water to prevent burnage, and press through a strainer. Sweeten as desired.

SALT FOR HOGS

Experimental Evidence Shows That
It Is Valuable Item

There is an old wives' tale that salt is poisonous to hogs. All intensive experimental evidence shows that, properly included in the ration, it is a very valuable item. A note from the Drovers' Daily Journal is interesting in this connection.

"Last year at Swine Day, held annually at Purdue University, C. M. Vestal, in charge of hog feeding tests, reported that a penny's worth of salt saved 287 pounds of feed valued at $6.37. Hogs without salt gained only half as fast as those receiving it free-choice with their grain and supplemental ration. During the 85-day test 81 pounds of extra gain was produced for each pound of salt consumed, $13 worth, based on the local price of hogs. The test was made with 90 lb. hogs.

"At this year's Swine Day Mr. Vestal reported on another test. He found that pigs receiving salt free-choice with their corn and supplemental ration gained 75 per cent. faster than those without salt. The salted pigs had an average gain of 84 pounds, while the others gained only 48 pounds a head. For each pound of salt consumed there were 29 extra pounds of gain. This alone gave the salt a high value in the ration. Besides the extra gain there was a saving of $7.12 in the feed cost of 100 pounds of gain when salt was fed, as compared with no salt in the ration. This saving amounted to $4.75 for each pound of salt fed."

Preserved In Glacier

Body Of Lizardlike Animal Was Washed Ashore On Alaska Coast

ANCHORAGE, Alaska.—Discovery of the body of a long, lizardlike animal—tentatively identified as a prehistoric tyrannosaurus or gorgonopsid—has been reported by home-steaders at Anchor point on Kachemak bay in Cooks inlet.

The find, believed to have been preserved in a glacier until washed out into the bay and then ashore, had head and forefeet virtually intact and measured 18 feet 10 inches from tip to tip, according to Anchorage residents who flew to the scene.

(The tyrannosaurus, a descendant of the gorgonopsid, stands 18 feet high and is some 38 feet long, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. The gorgonopsid is somewhat smaller and roamed the Alberta, Canada, region in the middle cretaceous period, some 65 to 85 million years ago.)

The animal, which washed ashore with some of the flesh still intact, was said by witnesses to have a tail five feet five inches long and two feet six inches wide at its juncture to the body. A head over two feet wide and three and a half feet long had a sharply pointed tooth row 18 inches long.

Make Good Students

Veterans Are Really Interested In Getting Ahead With Education

There was a time, in the twenties, when a young man, having nothing better to do, went to a university. That produced the type associated with the phrase, "Joe College". He wore a coonskin coat, and paid little attention to his academic work. He was at the university for a lark.

He was a very different hoy from the ex-serviceman who is in attendance at the universities now. Canadian university heads describe the veterans as steady, interested in their studies, not given to useless frivolity, and very intent on making up for the time given to service in the forces.

According to a survey made by the department of veterans' affairs as of Aug. 31, 1946, about 40,000 veterans are in the universities.—Globe and Mail.

THERE'S A REASON

James Nelson, editor of the Weekly Journal, Cuba, Ill., tells his subscribers his paper is not up to standard, and explains the reasons. Because of the help shortage, Nelson said, he must "set the ads, the news, run the press, do job printing, wrap, mail and deliver the papers and sleep a little every other night."

There are approximately 900 species of flowering plants, trees and ferns on the Hawaiian islands.

OUR COMPLETE
SHORT STORY—ABSENT-MINDED
GEORGE

By M. J. COLLINS

Copyright.
Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

TO say that old George was absent-minded was to put it mildly, he could forget or mislay more things in ten minutes than an ordinary man could in a week.

He operated the corner grocery store and the only reason he made money was because he had a wife with her head in the right place.

The most noticeable thing in the store was a large old-fashioned safe that sat solidly opposite the door. George had bought it when he opened his store more than twenty years ago.

This morning one of his sister-in-law's children had met with an accident and George's wife had to go and help straighten out a very upset household.

"Now, don't go woolgathering!" She warned as she was leaving. "I haven't the slightest idea how long I'll be away but I'll phone and let you know how things are."

Business went on without a hitch and George was well pleased with himself, no muddling for him. Most of his business was on a credit system and this was the day his customers generally cleared up their accounts.

At closing time he had almost a thousand dollars to lock up. Just before he was ready to leave his wife phoned. The accident wasn't as serious as first supposed and she would be home for supper. A short time later George drove home.

While they dined George heard all the details. His wife was so much taken up with what had happened that she forgot to ask how things had gone at the store.

This was the maid's night off and he helped with the dishes.

"How much money did we take in today? Did old man Pains clear up his account?" She asked as he dried the last dish.

"Yes, yes he did. We took in almost a thousand dollars, and I put it away safely." He informed her with some pride.

"Are you positive of that, dear?" She asked pertly.

"Yes, locked tight and safe," he assured her. He put the dish towel on the rack behind the stove to dry. "I'm going to look over the paper and then go to bed, Bertha. I had a busy day at the store." He stifled a yawn.

"Why not take it upstairs and read in bed?" She suggested. "It would be much more restful."

"I think I will. It sounds like a good idea."

"The paper is in the magazine rack. I'll be up in a few minutes. I think I'll bring my knitting."

George awakened with a start. He shook his head trying to get his thoughts straightened out. Evidently he'd drifted off to sleep while reading. The lights were out and the gentle sound of Bertha's breathing came from the other bed.

The dream! That's what had awakened him. Someone had broken into the store and stolen the safe. Taken it clean away. He chuckled, not much danger of that, it weighed 700 lbs. Stretching out his full length he relaxed and then rolled over on his side to go to sleep. The money! Now he remembered, when Bertha phoned he'd forgotten it and left it sitting on the counter in the cigar box. If he wasn't the addled headed... Throwing aside the covers, he sat on the side of the bed. No sense in awakening Bertha.

"What's the matter, dear?" She was already awake. "I heard you twisting and turning and I wondered if you were sick." She switched on the bed lamp.

"When you phoned I forgot to put the money away." He told her ruefully.

"George!" She exclaimed with exasperation. "Will you ever learn! What are you going to do now?"

"I'm going down to the store and put it away." While he dressed he told her about the dream. Bertha laughed when she heard of it.

"Don't worry," she assured him, "you'll find it there in the very same spot."

In about half an hour he returned.

"Everything all right, dear?" Bertha asked sleepily when she heard him.

"Yes, I did leave the money sitting on the counter but it's safely locked up now. Guess I'll never learn to remember anything," George grumbled as he rolled into bed.

Next morning they were at the store bright and early.

"George, you didn't lock the door!" Bertha cried with vexation. "You go from bad to worse." Opening the door she walked in while George was still fumbling for his keys.

"I locked it, I'm positive." He expostulated, but he had only Bertha's angry back to talk to.

When he closed the door he immediately had a premonition that there was something amiss. Looking at the end of the store he realized what it was, there was only an empty space where the safe had always stood.

"Oh, migosh, Bertha!" George jumped up and down with excitement, waving his arms and shouting. "It's gone, our safe, it's gone."

"Heavens to Betsy!" Bertha cried. "The police. I'll phone the police." And she rushed to the phone.

"What do you know," George shook his head incredulously, after all these years."

About two hours later the police found the safe in a ravine on a side-road about four miles from town. George drove out immediately to see what there was to be done. There was a constable on guard as well as a plain-clothes detective wearing a trench-coat. The safe door was blasted open and it was bare.

"Could you give us a list of the contents?" the detective requested. "I'll help us in our work."

"List!" George looked sheepish.

"Well, to tell the truth when I bought the safe twenty years ago I forgot the combination, and the old fellow that sold it to me moved away and I never did get around to getting it. We kept it just for show, officer. Always keep our money in a strong box under the counter."

Says Rheumatic Pain
Runs in her FamilyBut Safeguards Health
With Kruschen

Many people seem to think, because a complaint runs in the family, that there is little they can do about it. On the contrary, all the more reason for taking steps to avoid it. Especially if that complaint is rheumatic pain. Read how one woman keeps free from it:—

"Rheumatic pain runs in my family. My father suffered very badly with it. I have been taking Kruschen Salts, off and on, for about seven years, a little morning dose, in my first cup of tea. Kruschen is a great help in keeping rheumatic pain out of my shoulders. My general health is very good. I am 57 and can do a day's work with anyone. I would not be without Kruschen."—(Mrs.) A.B.S.

The whole secret of Kruschen is in its action upon the organs of elimination. Kruschen helps these organs to remove from the body the acid deposits which give rise to rheumatic pain. So try the morning dose of Kruschen for the next month or so. For rheumatic pain, take half to one teaspoonful in hot water first thing in the morning. Two sizes: 25c and 75c at your drug store.

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE
(2 eggs or 3 egg yolks)
2 cups sifted Swans Down cake flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar or firmly packed brown sugar
2 eggs or 3 egg yolks, unbeaten
2 or 3 squares Baker's unsweetened chocolate, melted

1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each; then add chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased deep 9-inch layer pans or three greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Spread Sea Foam Seven Minute Frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Cover top with Chocolate Coating.

Sea Foam Seven Minute Frosting
2 egg whites, unbeaten
1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
Dash of salt
5 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine egg whites, sugar, salt, and water. Cook as for Seven Minute Frosting. Add vanilla before spreading on cake. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 9-inch layers, or top and sides of 8x8x2-inch cake (generously), or about 2 dozen cup cakes.

Note: To cover tops and sides of three 10-inch layers, prepare this recipe twice.

Chocolate Coating
(To cover frosting)
2 squares Baker's unsweetened chocolate
2 teaspoons butter
Melt chocolate and butter over hot water and blend. When frosting on cake is set, pour slightly cooled chocolate mixture from tip of spoon over cake, letting it run down on sides. Keep cake in cool place until chocolate is firm.

BUT IT WAS SOAP
Samuel Schofield of East Weymouth, Mass., ordered some Second Great War army surplus commodities—ad reports he received 64 bars of soap made for use in the civil war. On the label of each piece was the slogan, "Save soap to win the war," and the stamped signature, "Commander-in-chief, Abraham Lincoln."

"MY WEEK"

by R. J. Deachman

The index for this year's Hansard arrived this week. It's quite a document. It takes 249 pages to list the speakers and the things they talked about.

I opened the index haphazardly and let my fingers wander as they list and there I found the record of one M.P. He had spoken eight times. Some of his remarks were very brief. His total comments on the affairs of the world, and the problems of Canada in particular, took about 1600 words. His salary totalled $6,000., approximately $2.75 per word for his effort. Probably Churchill doesn't get much more. Of course he may have been a strong man in caucus, he may have said things which dominated the decisions of his party but this rarely happens, the silent man in the House is usually silent, or nearly so, in any other place he serves.

The cost of his effort $2.75 a word is high pay. Yet I don't regret the fact that I supported the idea of an increase in pay for the members of Parliament, nor would I like to see a reduction of the numbers of members. We need a fair sized house of commons in order to have a sufficient number of over-average capacity to make good cabinet ministers. The big question remains unsettled. How can we secure a better House of Commons?

I liked the story of the little girl who moved from London to the country during the blitz. "Auntie," she said one day to her hostess, "horses are not like cars are they?" "Just what do you mean dear?" "Well our car has its wind-shield wiper on its front."

I have often thought that proportional representation would solve some of our political problems. As things now stand we have a minority government. That has happened quite frequently. It means that a majority voted against the government in power but the opposition vote is split into diverse sections. Under proportional representation the House of Commons would reflect the popular vote. The standing of the different parties would be in direct relationship to the vote in the constituencies.

There are difficulties in this method. It may tend to greater instability more log rolling, more frequent elections, but a democracy, after all, has a pretty fair sense of values. The difficulties might be shaken out when it comes to the practical problems of running a government. How can we call this a democracy when a man may be a member of the House of Commons despite the fact that a majority of the people have voted against him

"There is only one way to improve the condition of the working people that is by the production of more goods and services". F. B. Walsh, Vice President, National Federation of Labor, New Zealand.

One of the most hopeful signs in Western Canada is the attitude of the press towards the application of the railways for higher rates. Western Canada knows that if this application goes through it will be more harmful to western Canada than to any other section of the country. The West has the long freight haul. The Maritimes Provinces and the Province of Ontario have water communication, so has British Columbia. This to some extent, determines freight rates though shipment by water will probably be held up for some time to come. You can't smash the shipping of the world by war and have a return to normal rates in twenty four hours.

But the west is treating the question sanely, there is a desire to find out the facts. I mentioned recently an article appearing in the Neepawa Press. There was another along similar lines in the Weyburn Review:

"We all of us remember when the Canadian National Railway system was registering deficits every year that had to be met by the Dominion as a whole, and when the Canadian Pacific was passing its dividends. No person in his senses would want to see the two great systems revert to that sort of thing. But at the same time there is a feeling that western Canada is being penalized. The present is a mighty good time to revise the whole structure."

All this is to the good. What we need in this country is the wisdom which will face our problems without hysterics, with common sense and a willingness to realize the proper balance is absolutely necessary to our economic life that if we are to have a prosperous country.

If you have no answer for the serious conditions in the world you refuse to face how serious they are.

The past two days have seen activity on the intersection at the corner by the Broadway. The town's men have been putting down plank sidewalk to connect mainstreet with the new sidewalk to the hospital. The sidewalk is exceptionally sturdy and reaches out 40 feet from each sidewalk towards the centre of the street. Every added improvement is a step in the right direction. We hope that next year when the sewer is in mainstreet can be drained and the unsightly pools of water and mud holes be eliminated.

Empire And U.S. To Standardize Weapons Of War

LONDON.—Authoritative British military informants said that British Empire and American political and military chiefs have agreed in principle to standardize land, air and naval weapons and munitions to fixed United States sizes and patterns.

Informants said the issue of weapon standardization first was broached by Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada during the conference here last April of Commonwealth prime ministers.

Mr. King, these sources said, told the conference that Canada was convinced her territorial integrity and future security were inseparably linked with those of the United States and that defence strategy had to take into account the technical, productive and scientific resources of the United States.

Prime Minister Chifley of Australia and Walter Nash, New Zealand deputy prime minister, expressed similar views concerning their countries.

The military informants said A. V. Alexander, defence minister-designate, would give the standardization decision practical effect as soon as he takes office.

Asked whether such an agreement implied the conclusion of a formal military alliance between Britain and the United States, an army source said: "No, but it does mean a deliberate decision from the British side to settle any disputes that might arise in the future by discussion."

The source said Britain and the United States were continuing to exchange information on military weapons development—more than a year after the end of the war—adding: "I don't believe there is a single military secret between ourselves and the Americans."

In practice, it was said, the arrangement will mean that in any future emergency Britain would be able to order most of her military requirements from the United States with considerable less trouble than in the last war.

The informants suggested it would take a minimum of 10 years to complete the British conversion.

OTTAWA.—On recommendation of the Canadian wheat board wheat shipments west to Vancouver will not be cut off for the time being, at least, as the grain flow east to the lakehead and from lower lake ports to Montreal is now reaching satisfactory proportions. The board has informed the transport control officials in Ottawa that if the present eastward service is maintained by the railways, the wheat board will be satisfied.

Of the 31 grain freighters which were waiting empty at Montreal some ten days ago, ten have been filled and sent on their way to Europe.

In the meantime, there has been a great increase in the movement of grain from the lake head to the lower bay ports. The railways have rounded up all available cars from other services to keep the grain moving from the prairies to the lake head and from the lower bay ports to Montreal.

The Canadian transport controller is also speeding the movement of American open cars and gondolas back to that country in order to press the claims for return of Canadian box cars for grain haulage.

Where a week ago, the overall picture of car exchange between the two countries showed 11,007 more U.S. cars in Canada than Canadian cars in the U.S. this surplus has now been cut to 8,898, by the return of gondolas and open top cars.

When the overall surplus in Canada is reduced to some 5,000 U.S. cars, the Canadian office will then be in better position to demand quick return of the surplus of Canadian box cars held in the U.S. lines.

USED FORMER COMMANDO TACTICS TO CAPTURE EAGLE

SMITHERS, B.C.—A former commando, Robert Robinson of Ocean Falls, B.C., captured an eight-foot eagle alive at Babine lake, near Smithers, B.C., by using tactics he learned during the war. Drifting on Babine lake in a boat he spotted the eagle on shore, eating salmon. Robinson stripped, plunged into the lake and swam under water to take the bird by surprise.

REPORT DENIED

LONDON.—Prime Minister Attlee denied in the house of commons that Britain had agreed to recognize Egyptian rule over the strategic Sudan. He said recent conversations on the matter were "conducted on the understanding that they did not commit" either Egypt or Britain.

GOOD NEWS

Taxpayers To Get Returns From Compulsory Savings Plan

OTTAWA.—Canadian income taxpayers are due to get $50,000,000 back shortly, but it was paid so long ago that probably a lot of them have forgotten about it.

In 1942 the government introduced a compulsory savings plan as part of the income tax set-up. The plan continued until mid-1944. Altogether individual income taxpayers were compelled to lend the government about $260,000,000 and $50,000,000 was for the 1942 assessment.

They are scheduled to get that 1942 assessment back by March 31, 1948, with two percent interest. Their compulsory savings in the 1943 assessment—which amounted to about $115,000,000 will be repayable a year later and the 1944 assessment, which was for only half a year—$95,000,000—a year after that.

The plan was introduced by the government to bolster the lending scheme, necessary to finance the heavy war expenditures, and to drain off excess income which would have had an inflationary tendency during the war.

The actual amount which individuals get will vary greatly. The compulsory savings plan required taxpayers to set aside varying percentages of their tax in savings.

A single person with no dependents earning $56 a month, for instance, was required to save 24 cents a month, while a person in the same category earning $400 a month had to save $28.80. A married man with two dependents in the $100 a month class had to save $1.06 and if he earned $400 a month had to save $32.40.

Actually the compulsory earnings did not run as high as that because the taxpayer was allowed to offset against them such normal savings as life insurance, payments on a superannuation scheme or principal payments on a mortgage, so the figures set down on tables were sharply reduced, and in many cases wiped out altogether.

The roar of the Iguassu falls of Brazil can be heard 15 miles away.

QUEBEC POLITICAL LEADER DIES—P. J. A. Cardin, 67, a leading figure in Quebec politics since the time of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, died at Sorel, P.Q. following a heart attack. His death opens the House of Commons seat of Richelieu-Verchères he held for 35 years. Mr. Cardin was three times a minister in the governments of Prime Minister King and, after the death of Ernest Lapointe, the prime minister considered him his oldest cabinet colleague.

SUGAR BEETS

Premium Offered To Induce Quick Harvest

LETHBRIDGE, Alta.—A premium of 75 cents per ton for sugar beets was offered farmers in this area as an inducement to quickly harvest the estimated 90,000 tons of sugar beets still in the ground.

This tonnage, having an estimated value to growers of $1,200,000 and representing 25,000,000 pounds of sugar to the Dominion, was hurried by up to two feet of snow in the storm at the end of last week that completely stopped harvesting.

Sugar factory operators at nearby Raymond and Picture Butte, said the premium will be paid on all beets dug and delivered from now until conditions for digging become normal again.

British Delegate Optimistic For Future Of U.N.

NEW YORK.—"The United Nations' chances of success are greater than those of the old League of Nations were at any time," says Air Secretary Philip Noel-Baker, leader of the British delegation to the UN assembly here.

Mr. Noel-Baker was in at the birth of the League of Nations and followed it through to its failure. He was chief of the British delegation to the Geneva-based pre-war body.

To those who are skeptical of the United Nations' future, the veteran British diplomat has this to say:

"None of the big powers, such as Britain and France, were really behind the league. They didn't think it would work from the very beginning."

"Another thing, the United States was not in the league, although it had been proposed by President Wilson. Russia was absent, too."

In comparison, Mr. Noel-Baker has this to say in favor of the United Nations:

"The first United Nations assembly in London, in all technical ways, not only started where the League of Nations left off, but it was better."

"And remember this: President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee, Secretary of State Byrnes and Foreign Minister Molotov speak with far more authority than anyone could speak in the early days of the league."

"The Russians have shown that they are loyal to the United Nations. They have declared time and again that they are behind the United Nations."

The British diplomat warned, however, against jumping to the conclusion that differences and arguments will not arise in the United Nations.

AIR MAIL RATES

Postage From Canada To Almost Every Country Is Cut

OTTAWA.—Postage on air mail from Canada to countries in almost every part of the world is reduced. Postmaster General Bertrand said the reduction was made possible by adoption of a new weight unit by one-quarter-of-an-ounce to replace the former half-ounce unit.

A quarter-ounce air mail letter from Canada to the United Kingdom or Europe will require 15 cents' postage compared to the 30-cent, half-ounce charge now in force.

Rates on air mail within Canada or to Newfoundland remain at seven cents for the first ounce and five cents for each additional ounce. Letters to the United States will cost seven cents for the first ounce and five cents—instead of six cents—for each additional ounce.

Other quarter-ounce rates:

Bermuda, West Indies, British Guiana, Mexico, Cuba and Central and South America—10 cents; Hawaii—15 cents; Guam, Philippines, China—25 cents; Africa—25 cents.

Mr. Bertrand said the new regulations do not affect the "Canada air letter", a form combining envelope and paper.

DUE TO WEAKNESS

Winston Churchill Blames League Of Nations For Allowing Germany To Re-arm

LONDON.—Winston Churchill was made a Freeman of the Borough of Beekham in recognition of his leadership during a war which, he said, need never have been fought.

"There was no need whatever for Germany to have been allowed to re-arm," Britain's wartime prime minister said in a brief acceptance speech, blaming "lassitude, weakness, putting off until tomorrow what ought to be settled today" for the league of nations' failure to forestall Hitler.

What the victorious powers will do with their victory, Mr. Churchill said, "is one of those mysteries of the future that I shall not attempt to plumb."

Plans Fight Against Threat Of Inflation

OTTAWA.—Donald Gordon, plain-spoken prices board chief, has decided to step back into the public relations picture and give the Dominion a series of pep-talks to combat what the board considers the worst inflation threat since early in the war.

In a series of five-nation broadcasts which will constitute the most concentrated amount of public "selling" he has undertaken since the campaign for institution of price stabilization in 1941-42, Mr. Gordon will discuss price control generally, foods, clothing and rentals, and the contentious subsidy question.

Representations and inquiries to the board show that concern and uncertainty about the future of controls in the Dominion are greater even than early in the war when ceilings were first imposed. Officials lay the reason for this anxiety to three main factors, which have developed threatening proportions in recent months:

1. The decontrol program in the United States, where prices on some commodities have soared since ceilings were removed.

2. Representations by countless groups which have urged removal of controls immediately affecting themselves but at the same time protested against removal of related controls which would affect them adversely in other ways.

3. Concern by the general public over the lifting of basic controls like rent, food and clothing, and consequent misleading rumors and speculation.

Mr. Gordon's talks will embrace not only an explanation of the present difficulties facing the administration but also are expected to provide a definite picture of the government's future plans for decontrol.

The U.S. decontrol program in particular has Canadians worried because Canada's economy is inevitably bound to that of her southern neighbor. Increased prices due to lifting of O.P.A. regulations mean, in many cases that Canada will have to increase subsidies on needed imports if the price of such goods is to be kept at basic levels.

Main commodities falling under this category are cotton, coal and manufactured articles of various kinds.

WILL BE REMOVED

Subsidy On Wheat To Be Lifted At Earliest Possible Date

CALGARY.—Federal Agriculture Minister Gardiner said the 30-cent a bushel subsidy on wheat paid by farmers to Canadian flour mills will be removed "at the earliest possible date."

In a telephone interview with the Calgary Albertan Mr. Gardiner, now at Ottawa, confirmed a statement made by the Alberta Farmers' union that the subsidy will be removed shortly. He said "no specific date was indicated."

The Canadian wheat board, which handles all wheat grown in Canada, sells it to Britain for $1.55 a bushel and to Canadian flour millers for $1.25 a bushel.

Farm organizations have contended if a subsidy is to be paid to provide Canadians with cheap bread all classes and taxpayers should contribute equally.

About 50,000,000 bushels of wheat is consumed by Canadians annually. Removal of the 30-cent subsidy paid by the producers would mean an extra $15,000,000 annually to western Canadian wheat farmers.

NO DECISION YET

Prices Board Not Sure Whether Butter Ration Will Be Cut

OTTAWA.—Prices board officials are giving increasing attention to the question of a plan for Canada's butter ration this winter, but have so far come to no conclusion, and the prospects are there will be no change in the present six-ounce ration at least during November.

One prices board official said that it was "touch-and-go" whether the Dominion would have to cut back on the ration. He said it was expected a decision would not be made for a fortnight.

One question being closely studied by officials, but on which no definite figures are yet available, is the amount milk consumption by the general public has been cut by the removal of subsidies on whole milk. Removal of producer and consumer subsidies in June and September has resulted in a five-cent increase to consumers in most provinces, but so far as has been learned up to date, this has not greatly decreased consumption.

NEW RECORD AVERAGE FOR HEREFORD CATTLE

CALGARY.—Setting a new record for cattle sales in Canada 48 registered Herefords from the Pine Coulee ranch, near Stavely, were sold for $35,125, an average of $731 each.

Top price was paid by Henry Yager of Oregon for Royal Britisher, only son of the $15,000 Hereford bull, Duchess Royal Domino. 2697.

Dominion Helps Alberta With Huge Dam Project

Development of the most ambitious irrigation program ever undertaken in Canada is gaining momentum in southern Alberta after construction work on the $6,000,000 St. Mary river dam southwest of Lethbridge was inaugurated by Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe. Under the proposed scheme the federal government will build numerous dams, reservoirs and hundreds of miles of main canals to make water available for irrigation from the St. Mary, Milk, Waterton and Belly rivers. Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, left, and Premier E. Manning wear helmets to go underground. W. L. Foss, centre, is engineer. Feasting on corn at St. Mary's, Alta., dam site, key of the $20,000,000 irrigation project, are J. Blackstone, M.P.; Mr. Howe and Sen. W. A. Buchanan. Dominion and Alberta share costs.
